PLINT'S FINE PURNITURE

The ceronation of Wilhelmina of Holland may have set you thinking of things Dutch—history, art and styles. Dutch heritage has left New York a liking for tham all.

Do you know how many of the most picturesque furniture ideas hall from Holland, and how extensively we adapt and develop them? Here are thairs, estrees, quaint, bandy-legged tea tables and larger hall tables, all in mahogany, and unmistakably Dutch; here are delightful little cabinets for curios, sideboards with open nocks for a bit of delift, saucor racks and oup hooks,—Dutch in every line. Here are bedroom pisces, from rich, canopled beds to queer squat writing deaks.

Most of these are reproduced from famous pisces in old Holland. The shapes are all eminently useable, and varied enough to give as thoroughgoing a Dutch interior as one may wish.

Do you know how much you get for factory prices, in the best selected woods and accurate, made-for-centuries workmanship, when you

Stirring Shoe News for Men

A GOODLY lot of men's good Fall Shoes has come to us at only a fraction of its value. We sweeten it still further by adding hundreds of pairs from our own stock, odds and ends, small lines not to be carried over, pickings and tid-bits from this counter and that,—miscellaneous shoe richness of many sources and reasons. We take the whole heap and sort it into three lots, marking them, respectively,

$1.50 $2.50

The dollar-and-a-half shoes are of black and tan calf and Ridskin, laced and Congress Some narrow toes, and some McKay stitched soles. Shoes that usually sell at $2.50 and $5.

The dollar-ninety lot is of laced shoes, black or tan, all with oak-tanned welted and stitched soles. Leathers are calfskin, kidskin, boarded and Russian calfskin. All the best toe-shapes, and shoes that have every-day prices of $3

The two-fifty lot is composed of patent leather shoes, very largely five-dollar sorts; some have sold at $3.50. Flexible welted soles, kid or vesting tops, very best grades, newest shapes. Just right for Autumn.

THE preparation of | Women's Relating to Fall Millinery our designers and our representatives abroad, for your Autumn millinery needs, is a story yet to be told. The time for the telling is not just now, but if you visit the Golden Salon-second floor, you will find facts enough.

It's a mere skirmish fire now, of course. The heavy cannonading will come in due time. Speaking of hats, there's a felt one here at thirty-five cents that is worth extended mention. For women and children, and a neat, serviceable, becoming shape, with the inevitable "campaign" suggestion delicately carried out. In four colors, white, cardinal, navy blue and cadet blue. They were intended to sell at about double this price, but they were so attractive and popular that we made a special trade in them. ond floor, Tenth street.

Eiderdown COOL mornings are on. Soon coming those with Sacques an eager and nipping air. Warm and pretty are these sacques we've just put on show. They're priced within easy reach. Some as follows:

At $1-In solid colors or neat stripes; fitted back, loose front; round collar edged with satin ribbon.

At $1.50—In solid colors or stripes; fitted back; full front, closing with silk frogs; edges finished with crocheted zephyr; round collar bound with satin ribbon.

At $3.50—Of cashmere: in pink, biue, cardinal and heliotrope; full front; back platted from works to write a stripe. from yoke to waist; round yoke with deep ruffle; yoke trimmed with 5 rows of satin ribbon; fitted lining; sleeves and collar also ribbon trimmed; wide ribbon and floor, Fourth avenue.

We have more of the Women's Oxford Shoes Shoes at 75c. and $1 a pair. The selling has been rather faster than we expected, but we are well supplied this morning again, and have given them extra space. The dollar shoes are $2 and $2.50 sorts, with all the toeshapes. The seventy-five cent ones are mostly $1.25 and $1.50 sorts, with a lot of real $2.50 shoes that are the biggest bargains of all, except that they have a very narrow toe. Fourth avenue and Ninth street.

New Goods in Cut Glass sale has progressed from an experiment into a success, from a success to a surprise, and from a sur-prise to a sensation. We have scarcely known such days even in holiday

No wonder in it for us. We knew last May what the result would be. We are opening new cases all the time, and trying to keep assortments complete, but we shall soon see the end of the half-priced bric-a-brac. There's a good variety to-day, but we cannot speak for to-morrow.

The cut glass is making us new friends as fast as we can wait on them, It's all American-made, and that means best. Prices are a third and a half less than you have known them. First floor and Basement.

VERY attractive. Bright The New Silk Belts Roman striped silk, with three slides and small clasp buckles; in oxidized silver or gilt; $1.75 to $4.50. Some black silk belts with small oxidized clasps, plain or jewelled, at $1 each.
